Cat on a hot tin roof Jamaica Plain garden patio
Tres Gatos debuts garden patio and weekend lunch menu

- Who: Tres Gatos Tapas Bar, Boston's first full service restaurant, book and music store, debuts their garden patio and weekend lunch menu.
- What: Tres Gatos expands with the completion and debut of their patio. Featuring seating for 25 guests in an intimate garden setting, the new space boasts a tiled mosaic in the shape of a cat. Additionally, Chef Marcos Sanchez unveils a lunch menu available on weekends only. The menu features pinchos, charcuterie and cheese, and a selection of tapas. Crowd favorites from the dinner menu such as the tortilla espanola are included, in addition to the traditional Bocado Jamon Serrano (manchego cheese, membrillo aioli) and vegetarian Bocado de Berenjena (Moorish spiced eggplant, arugula, green garlic yogurt).

- Other: About Tres Gatos
Tres Gatos Tapas Bar is Boston's first full service restaurant, book and music store. Inspired by his travel abroad, Founder David Doyle created a casual atmosphere where the traditional Spanish tapas philosophy of sampling, sharing and connecting complement the experience of an indie book and music store. Located at 470 Centre Street in Jamaica Plain, Tres Gatos occupies the former Rhythm & Muse space. Tres Gatos boasts a dynamic menu of locally sourced produce, meat and fish alongside a beer & wine bar. Tres Gatos is founded on the belief that sharing exceptional food, music and books is essential to a happy life. For more information, please visit the Tres Gatos website at www.tresgatosjp.com and their Facebook page at www.facebook.com/tres.gatos.
