

SAN FRANCISCO TRIVIA:

The Golden Gate Bridge has been closed due to weather conditions only three times: As gusting winds reached 69 miles per hour on December 1, 1951, the Bridge was closed for three hours. On December 23, 1982, high winds of up to 70 miles per hour closed the Bridge for almost two hours. On December 3, 1983, once again high winds closed the Bridge for the longest period in its history, 3 hours and 27 minutes.
