Single Malt Scotch Whisky

Lowlands

The region around Glasgow and Edinburgh in the south. Lighter in color and drier in taste than the other regions. Light in peat, salt and smoke flavors

	Glenkinchie 10yr.	$9	Auchentoshan 16yr.	$10
--	-------------------	------------	--------------------	------

Speyside

A part of East Highlands set just below Elgin on the Spey River. Produces the sweetest whiskys. Fruity, leafy and honeyed.

Balvenie 10yr.	$9	Balvenie 15yr.	$12	Balvenie 21yr.	$15
Aberlour 15 yr.	$9	The Macallan 12yr.	$9	Glenlivet 12yr.	$9
		Glennfiddich 12yr.	$9

Islay

An island off the west coast in the lower Hebrides. Produces the weightiest, most pungent and heavily peated.

Ardberg 10yr.	$9	Lagavulin 16yr.	$10
Laphroaig 10yr.	$9	Caol Ila 12yr.	$9

Islands

Not an "official" Scotch Region, but distinct nonetheless. Milder versions of Islay flavors

The Arran Malt $ 10

South & East Highlands Region

The area from Perth to just above Aberdeen. Produces medium to full-bodied whiskies. Slightly sweet, smooth with a fragrent dry finish.

McClelland 12yr. $9 Glenkinchie $9

North Highlands Region

The area around and above Inverness. Complex, medium-bodied whiskies, with overtones of heather, spice, smoked nuts and citrus fruit.

Glenmorangie 10yr. $9

Dalmore 12yr. $9

West Highlands Region

The west-coastal region, stretching from Oban to just above Fort William. Tend to start sweet, yet finish dry and somewhat peppery.

Oban 14yr

.$9

Dalwhinnie 15yr. $9 Talisk

$9