

Bánh Mì Sandwiches

A traditional Vietnamese "street sandwich" offering the best of French Colonial influence - the baguette - combined with the vibrant and bold ingredients of Vietnam. The result: a freshly made sandwich bursting with flavor!

Baguettes are piled high with layers of flavor: cilantro, Thai basil, pickled shredded carrot & daikon, ribbon-cut cucumber & aioli

Vietnamese Baguette Thin and crispy on the outside, soft and airy on the inside. Inspired by the era of French colonialism (1874–1954).

Vietnamese Meatballs Proteins marinated in honey, caramel, and onion. Formed into flat patties and char-grilled to burn sweetness away and create a complex grilled flavor. We make ground pork and ground chicken Vietnamese style meatballs.

Bean Thread Noodles Clear, firm textured Asian noodles made from low carb mung beans

Daikon Mild flavored central Asian radish that looks like a large, bright white carrot

Aioli Provençale mayonnaise-like sauce made from olive oil, egg yolk, and lemon juice. We use pasteurized eggs for health safety.

Nuoc Mam Vietnamese vinaigrette made from rice vinegar, fish sauce, lime juice, and palm sugar

Sriracha Spicy red chili garlic sauce made from red peppers, garlic, vinegar, and sugar. Named after the Thailand town where it was first made.

Mortadella Cured pork sausage originally produced in Bologna, Italy. Popular sandwich meat available throughout Vietnam.

Tamarind A subtropical plant originally brought to southeast Asia from Africa along the spice route trails. Within the plant pods lies a fleshy fruit known for both sweet and sour tastes.
